

WILLOWS ACADEMY

Position: High School Physical Sciences Teacher
Reports to: Head of School
Member of: Science Faculty
Salary Range: $55,000-$65,000

Start Date: August 8, 2025

Duties:

Teach High School Chemistry and/or Physics up to the AP level. This full-time position requires a background and expertise in physics and physical science, as well as knowledge of advanced mathematics. The teacher will develop and supervise hands-on science labs and other scientific inquiry lessons. In addition to instructional responsibilities, the teacher will participate in the school mentoring program and co-curricular activities and continue to work on professional growth.

Science Department Philosophy:

All students learn to discover the beauty and truth imbued in the natural world through scientific inquiry, emphasizing hands-on laboratory activities. Students are motivated to use their scientific literacy for the common good as responsible citizens. Every Willows student takes a science course each year since science is integral to a rigorous liberal arts education. The curriculum includes biology, chemistry, and physics at middle and high school levels. Fitted to their developmental stages, students practice collaborative and independent-focused work, equipping them for deep scientific endeavors and careers in any STEM field they choose.
